

THE FIRST PERSON TO STOP CLAPPING WILL BE DISCIPLINED

You have to profess your deep love for him at all times;
whenever you've talked for a while, bring in his name.
He likes to be reassured that you think of him constantly, and it's genuine, not because you want to get on.

Morning, noon and night assure him you love him;
pile the adjectives on, he can never get quite enough.
And mean it, because people always know the difference.
It isn't a strategy. No, it is pure love.

Merryn Williams

