

December 24th

Spellbound children watch candle flames on the tree make baubles, tinsel shine;

the room transformed, still until we raise our voices, sing like every year old and new carols into the silent, wintery night that is Christmas.

Alice Beer